London's transport system.

After a two year, 22.4m refurbishment, London Transport Museum is now open, bringing a striking new venue to this prime location on Covent Garden piazza.

The Museum galleries provide a spectacular backdrop for evening receptions and dinner parties, mixing old and new with stunning displays of iconic transport posters and original artworks, vintage public transport vehicles and exhibitions that look at London's future transport system.

The purpose-built Cubic Theatre is ideal for conferences, screenings and presentations, offering state-of-the-art AV facilities and a dedicated breakout area for registration and catering. This is a truly 'London' venue built around one of the capital's favourite talking points.
